

General Information Round 1

Your group has just returned from a rather monotonous excursion into the Iron Forest. No fighting, no loot, in general pretty dull. Right now you're heading for the human settlements beyond the Badlands, hoping for more rewarding work. The route you're taking leads through the Deadlands, reputedly the site of one of the last battles of the Chaos Wars. More recently there has been rumors of banditry, however you've seen nothing.

You set up camp your first night in the Deadlands, when towards dawn a disturbance rouses the camp. Hastily everyone puts on armor, when out of the darkness appears a badly wounded elf. The group challenges him & the intruder apparently notices you for the first time. With an effort he pulls himself erects & speaks. "This curse I place upon you all. None shall know you but in anger, no weapon shall you take to hand but it will shatter, food & drink will pass your lips but nourish not, henceforth knownothing but misery lest you do the deed. Destroy the gem before the next morn." The figure then collapses & slides down the hillside to your feet. A star passes to the west.

When you check, the body is very dead. The elf notes that this figure was a Caliguendi & that such are normally extremely powerful. A quick check of the body reveals huge puffy purple wounds, obviously poison. The figure wears elven chain, has an empty sword scabbard but still has a (+2) dagger. In a pouch is a large gem, an amulet, & some notes. There is nothing else of interest.

Referee's Notes on the Gem

- 1) If the gem + the amulet are not kept together the party will be attacked by a salamander who will attack the gem bearer regardless of all else. This will happen once every 4 hours starting at 8am. If the gem + amulet are separated for more than 5 minutes a salamander will appear but not more than 1 in 4 hours

- 2) The holder of the gem can function normally up to -99 hits. At ~100 he is dead.
- 3) The gem entrances anyone who stares at it. An individual will do nothing but stare until distracted by some outside source.

The notes reveal the following information:

- 1) The elf was one member of a 3 elf party
- 2) They were checking on an ancient tomb in the Dead Lands where they found signs of activity.
- 3) The tomb was the burial place of the Black Titan, one of the most powerful leaders the dark forces had in the Chaos Wars.
- 4) The activity was a certain anti paladin who was attempting to raise the Black Titan
- 5) The gem is the Black Titan's life force. The elves managed to steal it & learned that it could be destroyed if you could bless the gem & on the altar of the All Saints & then smash it on the forehead of the Black Titan
- 6) The amulet is an amulet of proof against detect & location
- 7) You can only enter the tomb at sundown & then only briefly.
- 8) Unless the gem is destroyed the Black Titan will be raised on the following midnight.
